As you will recall from our March meeting, the College was seeing early projections of devastating health insurance increases. Our utilization of Enrollment Management Services and our involvement in a potential consortiu m currently utilizing Medical Mutual of Ohio, likely created a much more competitive environment resulting in only a 5% increase in health insurance premiums. Because of the consistent bridge funding enacted years ago, the net increase to the college for health insurance

She has already been accepted by Wright State University to continue her studies in Bio-Medical Engineering and ultimately hopes to pursue a Ph.D. in nuclear physics or engineering. Chancellor Randy Gardner made it a point to talk with Audrey at the awards luncheon on April 25. As a state senator serving on the Higher Education Committee, he often heard resistance to allowing seventh and eighth graders to participate in College Credit Plus. We were happy to provide him with some affirming feedback that, indeed, it can be successful for a truly exceptional group of students.

SOUTHERN STATE

You know Southern State Community College as your two-year community college serving Adams, Brown, Clinton, Fayette, and Highland Counties. We take pride in our implementation of the College Credit Plus program which now comprises over half of our student population. Two thirds of our traditional age students are first generation college students and 75% are Pell Grant eligible. Our tuition is the 4th lowest in the state among non-levy schools. The College itself has historically prioritized tuition constraint and has saved our students an estimated $6 million by remaining below state average tuition rates over the last fifteen years. As Ohio's economy has expanded after the recession, enrollment, especially among working-age adults, has declined. This tuition restraint coupled with declining enrollment is placing the college at serious financial risk.
